Red Cross Active In Montevallo After Storm

Damage Is Studied And Cases Investigated In Work Of Rehabilitation

As usual, the American Red Cross was on the scene promptly after the cyclone damage of last Tuesday in Montevallo, ready and fully prepared to render emergency relief where necessary, and to set up a program of helping to rehabilitate those who suffered from material losses in the storm and were left without resources to supply their needs.

Under direction of Mrs. Marvin Vines, district supervisor for the Red Cross, and of Miss Myrtle Brooke, Shelby County Chapter chairman, the work of investigating needs of the storm sufferers has been completed already, and recommendations made to the chapter committee and approved by them.

This means that it will be only a matter of a few days now until those people who were found to be entitled to Red Cross relief for replacement of the necessary household things they lost in the storm will be in position to secure replacements through the help of the Red Cross.

The Chapter Committee expresses its thanks to the sociology majors of Alabama College who did a most efficient job of working out the cases of loss and damage and reporting the same to the committee. These reports were developed and made by Jeanette Niven, Juanita Morgan, Jean Jenkins, and Clea Garrett. Their reports bore the earmarks of veterans in that kind of work, and is conclusive proof that their training at Alabama College has been thorough.

The people of Montevallo as a whole are appreciative of the work of the Red Cross. It will be true in this instance, as is the case of every such disaster, that the Red Cross will put into our community for aid to our sufferers, many times more money than our citizens give to the Red Cross. Let's remember that when Roll Call time comes again.

U. D. C. MEMORIAL EXERCISES TO BE HELD APRIL 26

Memorial exercises, sponsored by the local chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, will be held at Montevallo Baptist Church, April 26, at 10:30 a.m.

The public is cordially invited to attend this program.

Dr. I. T. Sanders, of the Alabama College faculty, will be the program speaker.

Immediately after the exercises at the church, the chapter will hold dedication services for the native stone marker to be placed on the corner of the Montevallo postoffice lot, in honor of the Confederate soldiers of Shelby County.

$110.85 Is Given For Crippled Children

Mrs. E. H. Wills, chairman of the Easter drive for funds for crippled children, reports that Montevallo gave a total of $110.85 in response to the campaign of solicitation. Of this amount, the Alabama College faculty gave $70 and the people of the town gave $40.85. The quota for Montevallo was $70.

Last year Shelby County gave a total of $341 to the crippled children's fund, and during the year $30.50 was spent in aid and treatment of 24 children in the county.

Mrs. Wills requests The Times to express for her to the faculty and the people of the town her thanks, as chairman of the committee, for the splendid response and cooperation given this most worthy cause.

Mr. and Mrs. Courtland Rutherford, of Montgomery, were the week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Wyatt and family.

Let's Help Our Colored People

Everyone knows, of course, that the Negro Baptist Church in Montevallo was demolished in the storm of last week. The building is almost a complete loss and an entirely new building will have to be built. The members of the church cannot build alone and they need all the help and cooperation we can give them. A number of people already have said voluntarily that they wanted to help rebuild the church house. All of us want to help, of course. The colored people believe in us, as we believe in them, and they feel that they can depend upon us for help. Certainly we shall not fail them. Surely everyone will be ready to give liberally to this cause when an appeal is made. Let us do our best for them.

This appeal has the endorsement of our local pastors and other leading citizens of the community. The appeal was endorsed by resolution of the Civic Club Wednesday.

College To Receive Bids On Remodeling Reynolds Hall

A bulletin from the Public Works Administration office in Atlanta to The Times says:

"On April 26 at 2 p.m. Alabama College, Montevallo, will receive bids for approximately $34,400 for college buildings, a Public Works Administration project located at Montevallo, Alabama. Bids will be opened in the conference room, State Department of Education Building, Montgomery, Alabama."

An accompanying memorandum says that bids will be received on the same date, at the same place, time 3 p.m., for approximately $2,000 for college buildings equipment, also a Public Works Administration project located at Alabama College, Montevallo.

Local information secured relative to the above tells us that the $34,400 item is for remodeling Reynolds Hall, and the $2,000 item is for equipment for the library.

Clerks Union Gives Banquet

The Montevallo Retail Clerks Local, No. 185, entertained a large gathering of their friends and employers at a banquet Tuesday night at the Legion Hut. A sumptuous chicken dinner with drinks and trimmings was served to about a hundred guests and members.

Toastmaster for the evening was D. M. Carr. Short talks were made by a number of the guests. Visiting speakers were Virgil F. Pearson, district representative of the Clerks Union, and Yelverton Cowherd, attorney, of Birmingham.

Mitchell Young, president, and Miss Jacque Battle, secretary, with other members of the local, had charge of the entertainment of guests, and they really made sure that everyone had a good time.

After the banquet the tables were cleared away, and the affair was turned into a real old-fashioned shindig. Here is where the fun started, and it continued until twelve o'clock. Everybody went home with the assurance to their hosts that a good time was had by all.

AUXILIARY TO HAVE FIDAC PROGRAM APRIL 20

The next regular meeting of the Legion Auxiliary will be the FIDAC program at the Girl Scout Little House Thursday, April 20, at 7:30 p.m.

Guest speakers will be the three foreign students at Alabama College; Kapsoon Kim, of Korea; Sara Shore, of Argentina; and Alina Dalsace, of France.

Mrs. W. M. Wyatt and Theda and Jimmy visited in Birmingham Saturday.

To the Public

The recreational facilities of Alabama College, including the tennis courts and other playing fields, are available only to the faculty and other students of the college. The college regrets that it can not open these facilities to the use of the general public and will appreciate the cooperation of the public with respect to this matter.

It is contemplated that any deviation from this announcement will be made only by express consent from the college authorities.

A. F. HARMAN,
President.

Tularemia Reported In Shelby County

With eight cases and three deaths of tularemia in Shelby County recently, the dangers of this disease have been brought forcibly to our attention.

These cases all developed from handling and eating a single infected rabbit.

This rabbit was killed by several children and was dressed by one of the older children who now is suffering from the disease. The other children cooked the rabbit in their play-house and ate it.

After a lapse of about three days, all who ate any part of the rabbit became violently ill with high fever, severe throat infection, and mental symptoms.

Three of the children died within a few days of onset, another is now desperately ill.

Tularemia is often referred to as rabbit fever, but other animals also may be infected, such as the squirrel, ground squirrel, opossum, and ground hog. It may be transmitted to man by the bite of a dog, cat, or hog which has eaten an infected rabbit or other infected animal; also by the bite of wood ticks or horse flies.

The principal source of danger is in dressing wild rabbits or from eating insufficiently cooked wild rabbit meat.

Rubber gloves should be worn when dressing these animals, and the meat should be thoroughly cooked before being eaten.

Also contact with wood ticks and horse flies should be avoided.

The presence of this one infected rabbit in this county is evidence that other infected rabbits are sure to be present.—E. F. Sloan, M. D., County Health Officer.

Mayor Acker Expresses Appreciation For Aid Following Cyclone

Dr. Douglas Freeman To Lecture at Alabama College April 27-28

Inauguration of the Dancy Foundation Lectures at Alabama College is announced by Dr. A. F. Harman, president, for April 27 and 28.

The opening series will be delivered by Dr. Douglas Southall Freeman, editor of The News-Leader, Richmond, Virginia, and author of the biography, "R. E. Lee," which was awarded the Pulitzer Prize in 1934.

Dr. Freeman has chosen as his general subject, "The South to Posterity: A Review of Southern Historical Literature and Memoirs Since 1865." In three lectures Dr. Freeman will study the efforts of the Southern people to win victory, through their writings, for the cause that was lost on the battlefield.

In establishing the Dancy Lectures, Alabama College seeks in a special way to honor the giver of the Dancy Fund, Unity D. Dancy, and her mother, Sarah Dandridge Garth Dancy, in whose name the bequest was made. The Dancy will designate substantial sums also to the University of Alabama, Alabama Polytechnic Institute, Mississippi College for Women, and the University of Virginia.

Miss Dancy left Alabama College $12,500 with which to "endow the Departments of English, Literature and Expression." This statement of purpose has been interpreted to mean that the income from the fund shall be used to supplement the services now rendered by the Departments of English and Speech. The Lecture Foundation was established in the belief that it fulfills the intention of the benefactor and offers a distinctive service to the cause of culture in the South. The income from the endowment will provide for a series of lectures every second year.

The lecturer for each series will be a nationally recognized authority qualified to present original research or fresh criticism related to the development of culture in the South. Dr. Freeman, who has accepted an invitation to deliver the first lectures, is established in the first rank both as research scholar and as critical biographer.

The special committee appointed by President Harman to administer the foundation consists of Dr. (Continued on back page)

Funeral Rites Held For Percy E. Lee

Percy E. Lee, age 52, for the past 29 years carrier on rural route No. 1, Montevallo, died last Friday morning in a Birmingham hospital. He had been in ill health for some months and had been in the hospital for about a week.

Funeral services were at Elliotts-ville cemetery, near Siluria, Saturday morning, conducted by Rev. F. B. Pearson, Rev. J. M. Shores, and Rev. Allen. Burial was in the adjoining cemetery with Jeter in charge. Pallbearers were Dr. P. C. Wilson, Cage Head, R. A. Reid, Kermit Woolley, Clyde Burgin, and P. D. D. Pendleton.

Mr. Lee is survived by his wife, Mrs. Ilee (Starr) Lee; one son, Percy Lee, Jr., a student at Central College, Decatur, Miss.; two brothers, Roland and Foster Lee, of Spring Creek; one sister, Mrs. Florence Cary of Spring Creek.

The deceased was born and reared in Shelby County, a member of the pioneer Lee family. He was an elder of the Presbyterian Church, was widely known in the county, and was held in high esteem as one of our most worthy and dependable citizens.

Miss Elizabeth Conn returned last week from a visit to her home in New Orleans.

Offered From Helena, and Columbiana To Sufferers

In the cyclone of last week or Charles T. Acker issued a statement expressing his appreciation to the people of this immediate community and to our neighbors in other nearby communities for the ready response which was made to help take care of those people of the town who were the victims of the disaster.

"First of all," said the Mayor, "we are thankful that the destruction of the powerful winds was confined to the loss of property only. The escape of many of our citizens without personal injury was indeed miraculous." Continuing, he said:

"Montevallo feels deeply appreciative of the offers of help that came from our neighbors in Helena, Columbiana, and Calera. Immediately after they received word of the storm they came with ready hands and hearts, offering what they could for the relief of our sufferers. Helena, expressing appreciation for what Montevallo did for them a few years ago when that community was visited by a similar catastrophe, sent Mr. Wallace here at once with a liberal donation of money, and the assurance that Helena is ready to do all in their power to help further, if possible.

"The spirit of our own citizens in helping clear the wreckage and taking care of those whose homes were destroyed or damaged was an evidence of good neighborliness which is most commendable.

"The community at large, and the storm sufferers in particular, appreciate the heroic work of our Boy Scouts who were prompt, manly, and efficient in helping clear the streets of debris, and otherwise assisting those who were visited by distress."

Building Program Progressing Rapidly

Information obtained from the PWA engineer's office in Montevallo this week says that the entire docket of projects in Shelby County is well under way, and as a whole, stands better than 50 per cent completed. This applies to the various public school buildings under construction at different places in the county. In this connection it was stated that the County Board of Education received on April 6 a PWA grant of $31,750 to apply on the construction program.

Most advanced of the Alabama College construction projects is the addition to the Library. Stone is being placed on this job and it will soon be ready for the roof. The brick work is practically finished.

The academic building, to be known as Comer Hall, is well under way. Concrete is being poured for the first floor this week. This, of course, means that the brick work is progressing accordingly.

For the new dormitory, Tutwiler Hall, the engineers report that excavations and footings have been poured of concrete and the brick work is well started.

The Montevallo Elementary School annex is well advanced. Brick work is about finished, plumbing and electrical fixtures are going in. The estimate is that this building is 75 per cent finished.

Brick laying, it is said, will be finished on the High School auditorium this week. Steel frame work is all put up and window frames are in place.

Mr. John Reid of Auburn spent last week-end with his family.

Mrs. John Milton Simpson is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Lawrence Oliver, of Coleman.

Mr. Frank Baron III of Georgetown, Miss., is visiting his sister, Miss Nellie Touchstone.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Burnett and little daughter, Betty Ann, of Alexander City, visited friends in Montevallo Sunday.

SPOTLIGHT CARNIVAL

The Spotlight Carnival at the High School last Friday night was an occasion of fun for all who attended and that was lots of folks. The public turned out in great numbers to see the various devices offered by the students. Everybody had a good time and felt that they got more than their money's worth.

The parade of the school, headed by the band, was a colorful affair, taking place at noon Friday. This served to give everybody notice that the carnival spirit was in full possession of the school, and drew many people to attend Friday night to see what was in store.

We feel that everybody who attended will vote in favor of the High School making this an annual affair.

Special commendation goes to the band for its demonstration in leading the parade. We believe the band should do things like this more often. They should not confine their public appearances to one a year.

And what about uniforms? Wouldn't it have added much to the impressiveness of the march if the band members had been diked out in sparkling uniforms? Let somebody start a movement to get uniforms for those boys and girls, and we believe it will go over big.

MAIL ROUTE VACANCIES

Death of two rural mail carriers in the past week, Percy Lee of Montevallo, and Mr. Parker of Calera, has caused quite a stir among a number of hopefuls who would like to step into those jobs. We can assure the postoffice department if they decide to fill the vacancies by appointment of new men, there will be no scarcity of material to pick from.

Well, why not? A good job with Uncle Sam is not to be sneezed at. Most anybody would like to have one of them.

The Board of Directors of the Shelby County Council of Home Demonstration Clubs held its quarterly meeting in Columbiana on Monday, April 17. Mrs. Frank Wyatt, president of the council, presided over the meeting, which was attended by representatives from Chapel, Klein, Dargin, Calcis, K. Springs, and Maylene.

The name of Mr. Fred Garrett of Calcis was drawn as winner of the inter-spring mattress made by the Klein and Calcis clubs. The council made further plans for a scholarship fund which will help pay part of the expenses of some Shelby County girl in college or business school.

Plans for a county tour were also discussed and council members decided on several points of interest in the county to be visited by home demonstration club members and their husbands sometime in June.

Circle Meeting

Circle No. 1 of the Methodist Missionary Society met at the home of Mrs. L. C. Parnell, with Mrs. G. T. Towery as co-hostess, April 10.

The business session was presided over by Mrs. Parnell. Reports of the committees were given and Mrs. T. H. Napier gave a special report on the Women's Missionary Conference held in Jasper, to which she was a delegate.

Mrs. Brewer Carpenter was program leader. The theme of the afternoon was "New Realizations of Democracy in the Local Church." The program was opened with the hymn, "Help Somebody Today." The scripture was given by Mrs. J. H. Henning, "Jesus' Lament Over Jerusalem," Luke 19: 41-46, and Matthew 23: 37-39. "Foundations of the City," by Mrs. W. D. Jackson, and leaflets on "New Realizations of Democracy" were given by Mrs. Bill Carpenter and Mrs. Joe Doyle. Ways were discussed by which we can improve and promote democratic projects in our local community.

The meeting was closed with the watchword. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. C. G. Sharp May 15.

U. D. C. Meeting

The U. D. C. met with Mrs. C. L. Meroney Thursday afternoon, April 13, with Miss Bessie McCary as co-hostess.

Methodist Missionary Society

Circle No. 2 of the Methodist Missionary Society met Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the home of Mrs. E. F. Mulkey, with Mrs. Kate Cook as leader of the program.

The subject was "New Relations of Democracy in the Local Community." The meeting was opened by Mrs. J. A. Brown playing softly, "Have Thine Own Way, Lord."

Mrs. Cook, in her "Call to Worship," stated, "Let us, as Christian citizens, think today about the community in which we live, and of our own relationship to its life. Is it the kind of city that in our best moments we long to have it be? Are its affairs carried on in justice and honor for the welfare of all its people? We have spoken in the past month of widening the horizons of our homes. Perhaps the borders of true democracy also need to be enlarged in our midst."

The song, "Higher Grounds," was sung by the entire group, after which Mrs. J. M. Shores read the scripture, Luke 19:41-46; Matthew 23:37-39, and Revelations 21:2-5, 22-27.

Mrs. A. E. Baumgartner gave the meditation, "The Foundations of the City," closing with a prayer for our city. The group joined in singing "Help Somebody Today," after which Mrs. Cook made a short talk before introducing the principal speaker of the afternoon.

Dr. Hallie Farmer, a prominent member of the Alabama College faculty and a member of Circle 2, made a most interesting talk on "New Realizations of Democracy in the Local Community." As she holds the distinction of being the only woman member of the Town Council, everyone was impressed with the sincerity of her talk.

B.P.W. Discusses Savings In Meeting On Monday

Dr. Napier, Miss Tracey, And Mr. Woolley Are Speakers On Program

Members of the Studiosis Club, members of A. A. U. W., and many townspeople accepted the invitation of the Business and Professional Women's Club to attend an open meeting held at the Elementary School Monday evening, April 17. The subject under consideration was "Savings."

The program opened with very pleasing accordion and xylophone numbers rendered by Misses Margaret Harris and Carolyn Norris, of Alabama College, after which talks were given by Dr. T. H. Napier, Miss Minnie B. Tracey, and Mr. S. R. Woolley.

Dr. Napier spoke on "Savings Accounts — Their Advantages and Disadvantages." First, he showed that it is practically impossible for a bank to make money at the present time. This is true because the bank is unable to find a place to invest its surplus funds where it will receive an adequate return and at the same time be sure the principal is safe.

The Montevallo bank pays two per cent on savings, compounded semi-annually, on January 1 and July 1, whereas, the larger banks in Birmingham pay in the neighborhood of one and one-half per cent. Shortly after it was found out in banking circles that the Merchants and Planters Bank paid two per cent, calls came in from as far away as Knoxville, Tenn., asking if deposits of ten and fifteen thousand dollars would be accepted. It was impossible to grant these requests as there would soon have been a greater total of savings accounts than of checking accounts. It was necessary to rule that no savings deposits be accepted outside of those in our immediate territory.

According to Dr. Napier, one can secure very little advice from the bank. About all the banker can say is "Don't." Bankers rarely say "Do." Someone in the bank would be bound to say that your proposed investment was a poor one. And they could not tell you where to put that money.

In listing the advantages of savings accounts, Dr. Napier mentioned stability first. While stocks and bonds are going up and down with the market, your savings account does not vary.

The savings account is always available. In case of emergency one can always draw upon it. In this state the bank is granted the privilege of requiring notification of sixty days in advance of withdrawals. However, this rule has rarely been used—only when runs have been made on banks.

And lastly, the government guarantees deposits up to $5,000, therefore, your savings account is safe.

Miss Tracey spoke on "Savings Opportunities Offered by the Federal Government Through the Post-office." First, she listed the tests of a good investment: Security of principal, adequacy of return, liquidity, satisfactory duration of investment, legality of issue, tax position, value as collateral, freedom from care, satisfactory denomination, and possible appreciation. Then she showed how satisfactorily United States Savings Bonds meet these tests.

The denomination is small, ranging from $18.75 with a maturity value to $25 ten years hence to $750 with a maturity value of $1,000. Thus, this is an excellent form for systematic savings to take.

United States Savings Bonds are liquid. They may be redeemed sixty days after date of issue without loss of principal, and one year after date of issue with interest.

The rate of return is high when safety is considered and when rates of return on other investments are considered. At the end of ten years the investor receives thirty-three and one-third per cent more than he has put in.

The duration is ten years. The government will call them in at the end of ten years, although the investor may redeem them before that time if he so wishes.

And they are safe. The faith of the United States government is behind them.

Attesting to the popularity of this kind of investment, more than one million people have purchased these bonds to the extent of more than one billion dollars, and most of the bonds are owned by the small income groups.

The other type of government offering is the Postal Savings. This system was established to provide for depositing savings on which interest is paid, with the government guaranteeing repayment upon demand.

Postal Savings Certificates come in denominations of $1, $2, $5, $20, $50, $100, $200, and $500. These are not transferable or negotiable. Although the minimum deposit is $1, it is possible to secure postal savings cards and affix ten-cent savings stamps to them. These cards can then be exchanged for certificates.

Interest on Postal Savings is two per cent a year, payable when the certificate is cashed or when it is surrendered for interest payment. The depositor may not cash his certificate without loss of interest during the first year, due to the fact that the new certificate issued would be dated the first day of the succeeding month. However, certificates may be cashed during the second year and thereafter quarterly without loss of interest. The only way to secure compound interest is to withdraw interest and re-invest it.

Mr. Woolley's topic was "Insurance as a Means of Saving." He says that insurance is by no means to be credited to the new era, the first life insurance policy having been taken out in 1583, at a cost of approximately nine times what it would be today. Since that time the idea has grown until now there are 64,000,000 people in the United States who have life insurance coverage to the amount of 105 billion dollars.

There are four principal forms of life insurance. First, there is the ordinary life policy. This furnishes the maximum amount of protection on a permanent basis for the amount paid in. Second, there is the type of policy which may be paid up in fifteen or twenty years. Third, is term insurance. In this, the company apparently makes a bet with the insured that he will not die in the given time. If the insured dies, the company loses. And the fourth is the endowment policy. The policy holder pays premiums over a period of fifteen or twenty years, at the end of which he is paid the case value of his policy plus interest — and the dividends which have been left in.

According to Mr. Woolley, 85 per cent of the beneficiaries named in insurance in 1935 were women. It is also true that there are very few women do not have almost as heavy responsibilities as men, and for this reason, they should often invest in straight life insurance rather than in the more expensive endowments and annuities.

Mr. Woolley says that in the first place, people do not usually buy insurance; in almost every instance the salesman has to sell it to them. Then, when they do take it, often they are very careless of their selection of a company with which to insure.

Mr. Woolley pointed out that one should aim at a certain goal which would furnish protection or provide for one's old age, the number of elderly people dependent upon others being appalling. He also showed that in the case of having insurance one could leave provision for one's family, even though the bread earner might not live to carry out a full savings program.

All three speakers mentioned the fact that the investor should diversify his holdings and all three agreed that it would be well for everyone to have a savings account, some United States Savings Bonds, and some insurance.

Dr. Charles T. Acker left Wednesday morning for Montgomery to attend the sessions of the Alabama Medical Association. He expects to return Thursday night.

Permission to operate the Birmingham-Montevallo line through Bessemer was granted Alabama Caches on condition no passengers be accepted in Bessemer for Birmingham and none in Birmingham for Bessemer.

An Easy Dinner For Your Guest

What is a better find than an unusual, delicious, appetizing recipe? It must be another recipe. And one of these was found at the adult class under the supervision of Miss Mary L. Martin at the last meeting, in the form of "Scalloped ham with potatoes." Here it is—try it sometime and test our judgment of an easily-prepared and appetizing dish.

Scalloped Ham and Potatoes

2 slices cured ham, 1/2-inch thick. 1/2 cup cold water, 1/4 cup tomato ketchup, 3 large potatoes, thinly sliced, Heinz preserved sweet pickled onions, parsley.

On one slice of ham place one-inch layer of potato. Cover with second slice of ham and insert toothpick to prevent slipping. Sear in a very hot oven (475 degrees F.) until delicately brown. Combine ketchup with water and pour over ham. Cover and continue baking in a hot oven (425 degrees F.) about 45 minutes or until tender.

Not only was this recipe found and given the adult class, but some of the others on the menu which they prepared. The class studied "An Easy Guest Dinner." The menu consisted of scalloped ham and potatoes, buttered peas, stuffed tomatoes, icebox rolls, butter, apple jelly, and chocolate coconut pudding.

The class found the meal to be practical as well as easy to prepare in that it was all cooked in the oven and saved fuel. The scalloped ham and potatoes was put in the oven first, while the peas were being warmed; and the icebox rolls were put in the oven last, or just before the meal was to be served. The chocolate coconut pudding was prepared the day before. Now don't you think you'd feel proud to sit your guests down to such an appetizing dinner prepared so easily?

As this class had no special guest, the dinner was not eaten but numbers were drawn for the three dishes of scalloped ham and potatoes, stuffed tomatoes, buttered peas, and the ones who received one of the dishes were indeed lucky. The rolls were eaten in class.

So now you, and you, and you still have a chance to attend and become a member of the adult class. Your only requirement is that you be interested. Let your interest be your guide and join us next Wednesday in the lesson, "Planning Meals to Give Needed Food Values," at the High School home economics building, at 3 p.m.

Mr. Charles G. Dobbins returned Sunday from New Orleans where he attended a meeting of the National Association of Directors of College Publicity.

Men Prosecuted For Setting Fire to Woods

A Shelby County man was convicted April 1 of wilfully setting fire to the woods through vigorous prosecution on the part of the Eoothton Sportsmen's Club. Members of the organization worked up the case and swore out the warrant against the man, accused of starting a fire that burned over 50 acres of the club's 45,000 acre preserve. "This is the first and only case where a person in Shelby County has been prosecuted for setting a forest fire," said W. M. Russell, member of the club, who announced several weeks ago that the sportsmen would protect their lands even to the point of bringing violators into court. In Coosa County the latter part of March, two Negroes were convicted of starting a forest fire that destroyed nearly 1,000 acres of woodlands. This also was the first record of a conviction in that county. Dr. Walter B. Jones, director of the Conservation Department, has announced that persons setting forest fires will feel the full force of the law.

NEW RESEARCH DIRECTOR

A study of the environment and habitat of wildlife population of Alabama, with emphasis placed on possible improvements in the habitats, is the purpose of the new research division of the Alabama Department of Conservation. Dr. Allan F. Archer, an outstanding scientist who has been with the University of Alabama for several years, has been placed in charge of this work. Dr. Archer is a zoologist, botanist, biologist, and holds a Ph. D. degree from the University of Michigan. "There is not a more able man in the United States than Dr. Archer," said Dr. Walter B. Jones, director of the department.

We must increase the production of Alabama's dairy cows by the more general use of purebred bulls. Remember that it is more economical to get 4 gallons from one high-producing cow than it is to get one gallon from each of 4 cows. There is also less danger of getting kicked!

SUNDAY SCHOOL MEETING AT COLUMBIANA

Mr. A. C. Adams, of Chelsea, associational leader, gives notice of a Sunday School meeting to be held at Columbiana Baptist Church April 24, at 7:45 p.m.

"All Sunday School workers and lovers of the cause are expected to attend this meeting," said Mr. Adams.

Program theme of the meeting will be D. V. B. S. and Evangelism. A devotional period will be conducted by Mae Will Atchison.

During a conference period an open discussion will be led by Mrs. T. S. Hill and Dr. Fred B. Pearson. A message will be delivered by Rev. B. F. Hixon.

The average interest rate on all farm mortgages dropped from approximately 6 per cent in 1929 to 5.25 per cent in 1937, and available data indicates a further decline during 1938, according to figures given by Governor F. F. Hill of the Farm Credit Administration.

Cotton Must Be Produced Cheaply

Auburn, Ala.—Regardless of the low price of cotton this year, farmers are being urged by county agents and vocational teachers of the state to do everything possible to produce the best yield as economically as possible. This must be done to reduce the cost of production and to release land for other crops, believes J. C. Lowery, agronomist of the Alabama Extension Service.

"When the price of cotton is low, the mistake is often made of cutting down fertilizer bills by using fertilizers low in nitrogen content," he says. "This is a costly mistake, since nitrogen is essential for the production of good yields. Experimenters and actual experience of farmers prove conclusively that a good cotton fertilizer contains 6 per cent nitrogen."

The Alabama Experiment Station, through years of experimentation, has found that it is best to use 36 pounds of nitrogen, 48 pounds of phosphoric acid, and 24 pounds of potash. These amounts of plant food may be supplied:

- (1) By using 600 pounds per acre of a ready-mixed 6-8-4, or,
- (2) By home-mixing 225 pounds of nitrate of soda or its equivalent, 300 pounds of 16 per cent superphosphate, and 48 pounds of muriate of potash. On light, sandy soils, one-fourth of the nitrate should be applied under the cotton with superphosphate and potash and the remaining nitrate as a side-dressing at first cultivation after choppin, or

(3) By applying 600 pounds of 4-8-4 with a side-dressing of 75 pounds of nitrate of soda or its equivalent or 600 pounds of 3-8-5 with a side-dressing of 112 pounds of nitrate of soda or its equivalent.

If less than 600 pounds of this balanced fertilizer is used, the plant food should be kept in the proportions of the above nitrogen, phosphoric acid, and potash.

Mr. Lowery said that corn following a good crop of winter legumes should be fertilized with 36 pounds of nitrogen per acre by side-dressing the corn 35 to 40 days after planting.

Auburn Will Curtail "Electioneering"

Auburn, Ala.—Big-time political methods as practiced in the recent student election campaigns have been outlawed by the Auburn Student Government Executive Cabinet.

"Any means of campaigning by a candidate or his supporters other than personal approach renders the candidate ineligible," states the rule adopted by the Executive Cabinet.

Use of circulars, cards, printed advertising, and distribution of free merchandise by student candidates for class offices were likewise banned.

Decision to clamp down on expensive electioneering methods was taken after the recent campus election in which an all-time high was reached for varieties of vote soliciting.

Removal of the voting privilege of anyone found guilty of unfair practices at the polls was also approved by the cabinet. Provision was made for publication of the name of the offense, offender, and his fraternity affiliation in the college paper.

A fool-proof system of counting votes was assured at the recent A. P. I. election when a standard electric voting machine was used.

Recess Group to Begin State Farm Tour

Montgomery, Ala. — Baldwin County's annual Irish potato tour on April 21 will be the chief item on the first week's program of the recess committee of the Alabama legislature which begins a 30-day tour of the state to see some of the agricultural projects.

The committee, accompanied by Haygood Patterson, state commissioner of agriculture, members of the Alabama Extension Service and Experiment Station staffs, and others, will leave Montgomery on April 19. Members of the recess committee appointed to study conditions and formulate a legislative agricultural program for the coming session are Senators Howard Cooper, Brent; O. D. Carleton, Thomaston; P. F. Devane, Silas; J. M. Rowe, Elba; and W. C. Holmes, Foley; and Representatives W. W. Barrett, Uriah; Charles Weston, Louisville; L. N. Payne, Talladega; Howard Taylor, Butler; J. E. Deloney, Tusculumbia; D. C. Barnes, Skipperville; W. L. Martin, Jr., Eutaw; R. E. Wallace, Ackerville; and M. L. Robertson, Cullman.

The committee will leave Montgomery and go to Lowndes County and Marion Junction on the first day, April 19. They will spend the night at Marion; go from there to Hale and Clarke Counties to see terracing and other work, and then to Mobile and back to Foley on April 20. They will visit the sub-station of the Alabama Experiment Station and attend the potato tour on the next day, April 21.

On May 4 the committee will leave for a visit to Butler, Covington, Coffee, and Houston Counties. The members will then leave Birmingham on May 16 and will visit Jasper, Guntersville, Florence, Decatur, Anniston, Talladega, Ashland, Alexander City, and Dadeville before returning to Montgomery on May 19. The committee will meet in Auburn on May 30-31.

We must increase the production of Alabama's dairy cows by the more general use of purebred bulls. Remember that it is more economical to get 4 gallons from one high-producing cow than it is to get one gallon from each of 4 cows. There is also less danger of getting kicked!

Production of Farm Products Decreases

Auburn, Ala.—The volume of production of agricultural products for sale and for home consumption in 1938 was nearly 5 per cent less than the record output of 1937, but was 4 per cent higher than the average for the years 1924 to 1929, reports the Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

Crop production in 1938 was 13 per cent lower than in 1937 and was 101 per cent of the 1924-29 average, compared with 116 per cent last year. The output of grains in 1938 was above the 1924-29 average for the first year since 1928, and the output of truck crops advanced to a new high record of 130 per cent of the 1924-29 average. The output of most other crops was lower than in 1937, with the greatest decline occurring in the production of cotton and cottonseed.

The output of livestock and livestock products in 1938 was 4 per cent larger than in 1937, with increases in production of meat animals and dairy products more than offsetting the decline in poultry production.

ARGENTINA WILL PRODUCE MORE COTTON THIS YEAR

Auburn, Ala.—Those cotton growers of Alabama who are wondering what other countries are doing in the way of cotton reduction will be interested to learn that official reports of the 1938-39 cotton crop in Argentina is 387,000 bales of 478 pounds each. Estimated yield per acre was 184 pounds.

Commercial agencies in Argentina believe this first official estimate is too high. However, unless yields are subsequently reduced by unfavorable climatic conditions and insect pests, the crop will be the largest on record. It tends to show the increase in cotton production of the South American and other foreign countries, according to various reports.

FIRST CHUKAR EGGS

Fourteen eggs from Chukar partridges were gathered April 6 at the state game farm in Autauga County and placed for incubation. These were the first eggs laid by the 11 pairs of Chukars with which the department is experimenting this year to learn if Asiatic birds will grow in Alabama. If Chukars prove amenable to artificial propagation, it is planned to distribute them in several of the mountainous North Alabama counties. This game bird is a native of Asia and has been known to live in high altitudes among rocks where food is scarce.

Barn fires are among the most common causes of farm losses. Never light matches or smoke in a barn. Avoid the use of combustible lanterns. Use electric lanterns or flashlights. Check all electric wiring to avoid short circuits. Be careful in handling gasoline and kerosene. Do not drive automobiles into a barn where there is hay and litter. See that only well cured hay is stored in the barn.

The Girl Scouts of Troop 2 held their meeting at the Little House Tuesday afternoon.

In the meeting next week they are going to do spatter point work. Some games were played and they sang "Taps" at the goodnight circle.
